Friday, 13 December 2019

Bournemouth & Poole College is hosting an event in the new year for the public to discuss a potential fresh start in their career.

The event takes place at the College's Poole site, North Road, on Thursday, January 9 from 3.30 to 6pm. Attendees will have the chance to meet with tutors and discuss career options. Visitors will also be provided with information on different courses (part-time and full-time) and apprenticeships starting between January and April 2020.

Employers are welcome to find out more on training opportunities for their staff, and details on the College's free online courses will also be available throughout the event.
