What We Offer

No matter what your level, we can help

Whether you've come straight out of school or you're working and want some extra help, we offer a range of maths courses to suit you.

School leavers

When starting on a maths programme, we always establish the level you are currently working at.

We'll help you build on your knowledge in a supportive environment at a pace that's right for you. Your lessons will be integrated into your chosen course so you can use what you learn in your other studies.

Adult learners

You won't be thrown in at the deep end.

We will always start from and build upon your existing knowledge to help you to achieve your personal goals.

We are sensitive to how confident you might feel with maths, especially if you have been out of education for some time. You'll get lots of support and we'll give you the time you need to succeed.

Our classes are flexible and are offered both at The College and also with various community organisations such as children's centres and local schools in Bournemouth and Poole.
