Studying Uniformed Public Services

What you can expect in Uniformed Public Services

We want your time with us to be interesting, so you'll get a chance to learn in your own way.

You will attend lectures, interactive classroom activities and seminars. There will also be visits from speakers in the various uniformed services, as well as workshops and practical sessions.

Classroom learning

As well as classroom learning (about 60% of your time), you'll also take part in adventurous activities, teamwork and leadership training with further opportunities to participate in outdoor activities and visits including:

Taught by experienced tutors, you'll learn about the practicalities of working in the uniformed public services. You'll gain key skills through personal development and focus on areas such as confidence-building, fitness, respect, discipline and communication which are all transferable skills throughout other public sector jobs. You'll also get lots of advice and support with career planning and progression as part of the course.
